

Cookbook author and artist Mollie Katzen has been named as one of the “Five Women Who Changed the Way We Eat” (Health Magazine, June 1999). With close to 4 million books in print, Katzen also enjoys a coveted position on the New York Times list of the ten best-selling cookbook authors of all time.

1998 Honors:

- Member of Harvard Nutrition Roundtable, founded by Dr. Walter Willett, Chair of the Department of Nutrition at the Harvard School of Public Health. The Roundtable was created to inform the general public of the latest findings in nutrition research, and to encourage the incorporation of these findings into products and services.
- Chosen as a judge for James Beard Foundation Cookbook Awards
- Chosen as a judge for the International Association of Culinary Professionals Awards of Excellence

This fall Mollie's newest cookbook for children Honest Pretzels and 64 Other Amazing Recipes for Cooks Ages 8 & Up (Tricycle Press) puts the spatula into the hands of the young cook. This sequel to Pretend Soup and Other Real Recipes is geared for young readers who want to help with dinner for real.

Mollie Katzen is also planning her third television series, a co-production with the prestigious Maryland Public Television. The new show, based on recipes from her classic Moosewood Cookbook and The Enchanted Broccoli Forest (both newly revised by the original publisher, Ten Speed Press) is scheduled to debut early in the year 2000.

Mollie is now a columnist for Children's Television Workshop On-Line and for Sesame Street Parents Magazine, and is creating a children's food show for public television. Mollie Katzen's new line of food products will appear in grocery stores nationwide later in 1999 as well. You can keep up with all of her various projects at www.molliekatzen.com.

Since its debut in 1995, the acclaimed Mollie Katzen's Cooking Show has been appearing on public television stations nationwide. Ranked as one of the top cooking shows on public television, her current series is accompanied by the award-winning cookbook, Mollie Katzen's Vegetable Heaven (Hyperion 1997).

Born in Rochester, New York, Mollie Katzen studied at the Eastman School of Music, Cornell University, and the San Francisco Art Institute.

Mollie Katzen has also written the vibrantly illustrated best-selling Still Life with Menu (Ten Speed Press).